To See Ourselves As Others See Us

To See Us At Work...

Work is a major and important factor in the make-up of our school life. Throughout the year we see ourselves, both during and after school, engaging in various capacities of work.

During the school day we concern ourselves with the work connected with each class and the school. Each class, whether it be printing, math, English, or science, requires participation during the hour. Several English classes conduct panel discussions on books that the class reads. Science students carry on experiments in the new semi-micro laboratory. Students of a foreign language work in the language laboratory to improve their pronunciation. Each of us spends some time in the reading laboratory, working to improve our reading rate and comprehension.

We also see ourselves working in areas that improve school life. Some of us work in the cafeteria. The nurse's office also has students who help Mrs. Birkemeier with the administration of first aid. In the bookstore Mrs. Miles, too, has student help. Some of us work as assistants in the library, keeping bookshelves in order, checking books out, and repairing books. Others help in the office by taking attendance and delivering permits. Still others work on the staffs of school publications.

After school we devote a large portion of our time to preparing lessons for the next day's classes. Also, some of us spend part of our time after school working at jobs. Some students work in the county library. Local stores employ some of us. Others of us find employment in offices and grocery stores.

Students in a sophomore English class listen as Bill Frazer, Barbara Bennett, Jim Pfeiffer, and Delora Wilson conduct a panel discussion on THE PEARL.

Students Perform Many Services

Sponsors and staff members of THE LOG prepare layouts for the dummy.

To See Us At Play...

Throughout the entire year we engage in a variety of enjoyable and often amusing activities.

During the summer we enjoy swimming at Donner Pool and various lakes. Tennis and other sports are popular with some of us. Informal parties, camping trips, and vacations are all a part of our summer.

When school begins in September, our fun is not ended. Many of us attend club outings at Youth Camp. Other club parties are held at members' homes. A visit to the cafeteria during fourth period reveals that we have much fun while eating and talking with each other. School convocations are enjoyed by each of us.

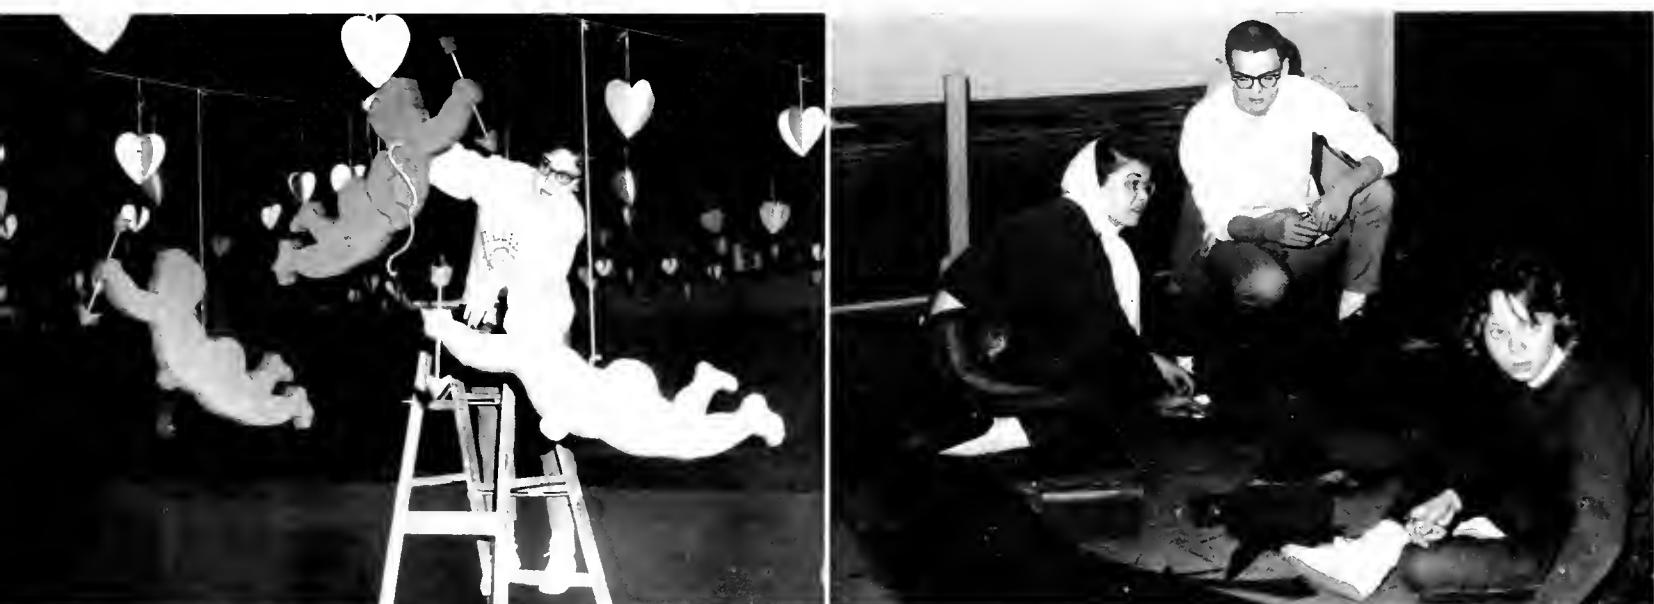

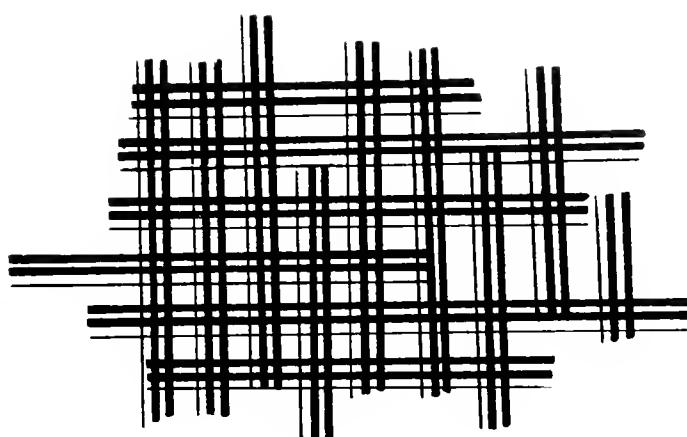

Beginning with Homecoming, the school dances are underway. The Homecoming Dance committee goes all out for decorations. Many of us are seen at the dance following the victory of the football team. The second school dance finds all hobos in attendance. In December the gym floor is made into a winter fantasy. Dancing is done around the cheerful giant Frosty the Snowman. The fourth school dance, the Sweetheart Dance, is held, of course, in February. In March many of us, though not Irishmen, attend the St. Patrick's Day Dance. The final and most elaborate dance of the year is the Junior Prom. All of us on committees and in art classes work hard to produce a prom that is almost impossible to excel.

For the second year, we combine our talents to create a variety show. Each act is enjoyed by a large audience. Faculty sponsor of ACT I is Miss Marian Callon. ACT II is sponsored by Miss Joan Diggs. Miss Shirley Lyster is the faculty sponsor of ACT III. Kathy Bottorff is student chairman of ACT I. Script writers of this act are Karen Rowe and Jill Marlin. The student chairman of ACT II is Mickey Leesman. In this act the script writers are Susan Prather and Kathy Weaver. In ACT III Clifsonja Silver is student chairman. Sharon Rowe and Sandy London are the script writers.

We Enjoy a Variety of Activities

Our mighty Bulldog frightens a little Southport Cardinal.

The Bulldogs prepare for action at Butler Fieldhouse in the Semi-State.

Fun Is Had in Many Activities

Girls enjoy themselves at a spread before one of our basketball games.

To See Us Competing...

Throughout the school year we see ourselves in competition. Projects and "booster busses" that are sponsored by the Student Council help in promoting active interest in the competition of our athletic teams. As many as seven busses go to some of the out of town football and basketball games to back our athletes.

Winning the Holiday Tourney by defeating Franklin in the final game is one highlight of our basketball season. Another highlight of the season is the solid defeat Shelby. Another highlight of the season is the solid defeat Madison receives in the Regional by the Bulldogs who win the Regional crown.

In swimming competition our Bullfrogs soundly trounce opposing teams. The Bullfrogs display much strength at the state meet. Runner-up Riley has less than one third of the points that the Bullfrogs compile.

Many of us compete with each other in intramurals. A variety of sports, including swimming, basketball, bowling, and volleyball, are offered in intramurals. The girls All-Star basketball team contributes variety at the half of a Bulldog game by playing a short game of their own.

Every junior and senior remembers the traditional tug of war. The classes, each sure of victory, prepare for the "battle" days in advance. The fire hose awaits the losing line.

Although we are not all engaged in athletics, we all compete in some field of activity. Members of our debate team participate in many contests. On awards day some of our students are honored for outstanding academic achievement.

Athlete's Life is One of Variety

Jack Dalton and Charles Wells display the trophies which they received for being voted Most Valuable Player. Jack received his award for Cross Country, and Charlie received his for Football.

The offensive unit anxiously awaits the Bandits' taking over.

Members of the CSHS Band march at the school bonfire before a football game.

Members of this year's senior class struggle valiantly while fellow classmates cheer for their favorite team.

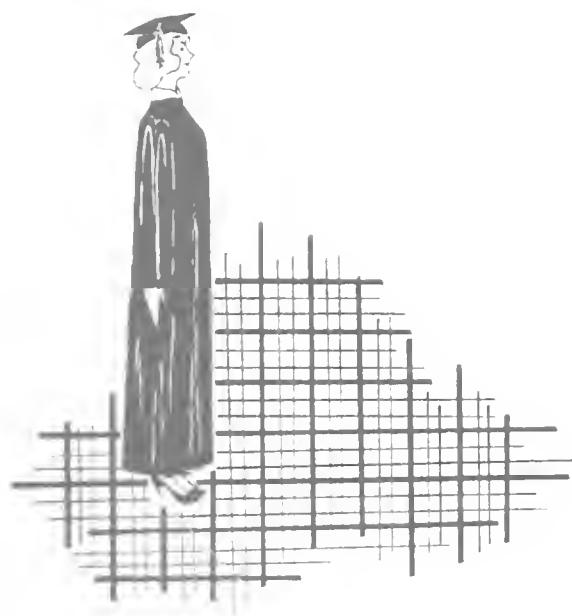

As We See Ourselves...

In Academics

At C.S.H.S. there is a wide range of courses from which we, the students, may choose. To prepare ourselves for graduation and the future, when entering high school we select the course of our choice. The selection may be from any one of the following departments: academic; business; general; or, vocational.

At C.S.H.S. we have the opportunity of using modern equipment. We are proud of the students who receive recognition for their achievements, both in the community, and in the nation. During this school term, three seniors, Karen Dunlap, Marilyn Main, and Jerry McCoy, are named as Finalists in the National Merit Scholarship testing.

Classes Learn by Participation

Several foreign language classes have parties typical to those in the country whose language they are studying. These variations of learning about native foods and customs are found beneficial and pleasant by everyone.

Classes in American Government find 1960 an interesting year. The fact that the year is one of a national election does not go unnoticed. One class holds a mock convention. Every member of the class demonstrates for his candidate. Speeches are made by members of each party; nominations are made; platforms are created. Showcases in the halls display many posters concerning voting, the candidates, and the parties. A great many of us wear buttons and pins to advertise our candidate. On November 8, each of us votes for President at one of the precincts in the school's mock election.

Julita Klavins cuts the French bread, and Suellen Munn serves Miss Redmond while the other students of the class await their serving of the French foods.

Voters in one of our school precincts stand in line awaiting their turn to vote for President of the United States in our mock election.

Students in a class of American government display posters and signs for their favorite candidate during a convention.

Students in Miss Butler's class gain practical experience in office work.

Posters in the language wing greet everyone with a "Hello" in four languages.

Electives Prove To Be Popular and Interesting

Each department at C.S.H.S. offers a variety of interesting courses. Those of us who enjoy art find many ways to express this talent. Instruction is given in art-crafts as well as in painting and drawing. Eighteen art students won Scholastic Art Awards.

Also, at C.S.H.S. four foreign languages are taught. French, German, Latin, and Spanish teachers have classes in the language wing. Persons who speak only English are wary about venturing into this territory. Greetings of "hello" are displayed in the showcase window in each language.

Not only does the music department offer band, ensemble, choir, and harmony, but also individual organ lessons. Mrs. Lewellen teaches organ lessons for two periods each day.

Several courses relating to, or stemming from English, are offered. Those of us interested in dramatics may enroll in a class where the art of drama is studied. Several courses in speech are offered. Also, courses are taught about modern literature and creative writing. In modern literature several novels and short stories are read and discussed. Writing techniques are studied and practiced by those in creative writing.

Mrs. Lewellen gives organ instructions to Wilma Dewar.

Columbus Senior High School offers us excellent courses in any program that we may choose. Students in home economics gain practical experience in cooking and sewing. By the end of their senior year, these girls complete advanced courses in these fields.

The six guidance counselors at C.S.H.S. discuss and plan with each of us our individual program. Although the counselors give advice and suggestions, each student make his own selection of his courses.

Courses in mathematics vary from general math to trigonometry. A student may take the courses which are most suited to his interest and occupational choice. Also, at C.S.H.S. we may learn vocations for work after graduation. Classes are offered in printing, woodshop, auto mechanics, agriculture, and drafting.

Classes in driver education are beneficial to each student. In addition to learning the mechanisms of the automobile, students gain actual driving experience under the direction of a trained instructor. The rules of safety that are learned and practiced make roads safer for everyone. In the classroom the students test their reflexes and skill on driving machines.

This year, for the first time, a medical fair was held in our gym. The purpose of the fair was to stimulate the interest of students in medical professions.

Counselors Assist Students in Choice of Subjects

Carol Yentz discusses her program with Mr. Utterback.

Sharon Rowe, Catherine Moore, and Diane Zeitland study in the library.

This year the band held a concert at the gym for the public. The concert was also given for the student body.

Students in printing class set up type.

Bill McQueen tests his driving skill during his class in driver's education.

Shirley Schrougham, Bobby Redmond, Margaret Mitchell, Susan Hoffman, Betty Wooten, Ada Harris, and Ruth Ann Harden practice a formation in gym class.

Science Students Work in Biology Lab

Because of the variety of organizations at Columbus Senior High, we participate in many activities. Among these activities are the school dances in which all clubs participate. The clubs to which we belong range from service groups to groups which increase a student's skill in a particular field. The projects of our clubs help with the purchase of school equipment, promote school spirit, and provide service to the community.

To See Ourselves in School Activities

BULLDOGS

Council and Assembly Sponsor New Projects

Student Council members are, seated: Shari Kiel, Fred Stadler, Jill Marlin, Wayne Thompson, Bonnie Reynolds.

Standing: Karen Kennedy, Mr. Arthur Taylor, Kay Nichols, Mr. C.G. Addleman, Doug Voelz, Bill Bowie, Bob Sawin, Lynn Forster.

Student Assembly.

Row Four: Carolyn Fulkerson, Elaine Steinwedel, Susan Hathaway, Sally Harrison, Joyce Wade, Sri Hartati, Marty Laws, Kathy Weaver, Bill Isom, Harold Schafstall, Larry A. Wright, Brent Snyder, Linda Carothers.

For the first time in its history, Columbus High School had an exchange student in its midst. Sri Hartati, a foreign student from Indonesia, was sponsored by the Student Council and Assembly.

Other projects that the Council and Assembly sponsored this year included the "Thought of the Week," the bulletin board in the main hall, bus trips to several out-of-town ball games, a Christmas tree over the outside entrance to the school, a spaghetti dinner before a basketball game, and other activities. The Assembly members also ushered during the sectionals and regionals, and they sponsored a free sock-hop during the sectional.

A member elected in each homeroom comprised the Student Assembly. The Student Council is made up of the officers of the Student Assembly, students elected by the Assembly, and two students chosen by Mr. Erne.

Mr. C. G. Addleman and Mr. Arthur Taylor sponsored the Student Council and Assembly.

Scroll, P.H.C. Choose New Members

Quill and Scroll is a journalistic honorary society. The membership consists of students who have done outstanding journalistic work on The Triangle Staff, The Log Staff, and the student who writes a daily column for The Evening Republican. The members must be in the upper third of their class, and they must be recommended by either the sponsors of The Triangle or The Log. Miss Evelyn Seward sponsors this group.

The Pat Hanson Club is a girls' athletic honorary. The club was named in honor of Pat Hanson, a former physical education teacher at Columbus High School. To become a member, a girl must earn 25 points by participating in intramurals.

P.H.C. sponsors and manages the girls' intramural program. For a money-making project PHC supervised concessions during the grade school tourney. P.H.C. is under the direction of Miss Joan Diggs.

Quill and Scroll members are, row one: Miss Seward, sponsor, Laurel Strahl, Karen Dunlap, Linda Followell, Barbara Hunt, Melinda Julbert, Anita Essex, Jane Schaefer, Martha Catlin, and Marilyn Main.

Row Two: Linda Bell, Diana Black, Carole Powell, Vernon Hilderbrand, Larry A. Wright, Ron Segebarth, Gerald Jordæn, Sandy Holcomb, Karyn Wiseman, and Sue Ann Pierce.

Tri Hi-Y Fulfills Goal of Club

Joan Brand, Carolyn Brooks, and Diane Denton try out for models for the Tri Hi-Y style show.

Janet Wolbers, Miss Callon, sponsor, Emily Horn, Nancy Freese, Betty Schroer, Naomi Weddle, and Elizabeth Cummins stuff dolls as one of their club projects.

The purpose of the Tri Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. The club platform is clean speech, clean sports, and clean sportsmanship.

Members of Tri Hi-Y carry out their purposes by giving food baskets to needy families, by giving toys and clothing to needy children at Christmas and Easter, and by contributing $250 to a scholarship fund each year. This fund is then given in the form of a scholarship to a senior Tri Hi-Y girl. Tri Hi-Y chapters also participate in the heart drive on Heart Sunday.

The six chapters of Tri Hi-Y raise money for these projects by making and selling various articles such as candy and stuffed dolls. Money is also made by sponsoring a style show and by having coffee club once a week for teachers.

Masquerade parties, dinners, and outings are some of the social activities enjoyed by Tri Hi-Y members.

Members of Tri Hi-Y place food in a basket to be given to a family on Thanksgiving.

Record Clubs Enjoy a Variety of Music

This year at Columbus Senior High School there are five chapters of Record Club. The sponsors of these chapters are Mr. Sheedy, Mr. Eddleman, Miss Pfister, Mr. Borders, and Mr. Wells.

During the club period, the members played various types of records. Through these club periods the members tried to receive a broader appreciation of different types of music.

With the money that they earned from their projects, the Record Club, chapters A and B, bought records for the jukebox in the rumpus room. Chapter A also sold Bulldog boosters license plates. The chapters also had outings, cookie and tidbit sales.

Kris Klineyoung, Clarence Cox, Jim Hardin, and Sharon Bryant in back, and Jerry Wilkerson and Sandy Schuyler in front plan a program for their club.

Hi-Y operates on a world-wide level and is supported by the YMCA. The boys participate in many service projects during the school year. They sponsored a TB penny drive in which each class competed against the others to see who would contribute the most money. These fellows also canvassed the city on Heart Sunday and raised money in the same manner for the American Cancer Society. In addition to the work they did to aid charities, the boys also helped with the necessary chores at school. One club shoveled snow from the school walks during the winter. Another club kept the school grounds free from waste paper and limbs. Still another group ushered at each of the games during the basketball season.

This year's sponsors who attended conference with their boys and provided wise supervision for their respective clubs were Mr. Russell Green, Mr. Jack Nussbaum, Mr. Norman Poe, Mr. Kenneth Farris, Mr. Ted Marston, Mr. Maurice Randall, and Mr. Russell.

One hundred dollars of the money raised by the chapters is placed in the J. Ray Ross Scholarship Fund and given to the most deserving college-bound senior.

Hi-Y Performs School Services

Steve Atkins, Jim Holland, Steve Everroad, and Randy Griffin sollicit for the Heart Fund.

Roger Strohe, Bruce Williamson, Steve Brown, and Larry McCord examine a book on wildlife.

Conservation A is sponsored by Mr. Woodrow Fleming. This year one of the club's projects was planting 350 pine trees on Driftwood River for the prevention of soil erosion.

The qualifications of the club is a personal project for every member.

The purpose of Conservation B is to develop a better understanding on the part of its members as to the importance of conservation and the use of proper methods.

The club has engaged in the planting of food and cover for birds, as well as the raising of quail each year.

Clubs Study Various Methods of Conservation

David Walters, Tom Finke, Dennis Wiley, Steve Moore, and Mike Davis study all phases of conservation through their club work.

Egats Provide School with Needed Service

Jack Conner, Don Zimmerman, Dave Dalton, and Jim Miller work with equipment used by the EGATS.

The EGATS provided the school with services relating to productions of the Dramatic Workshop, the music department, and the other programs of the school. This year the EGATS were in charge of lighting and sound effects and props for concerts of the band and choir and productions of the Dramatic Workshop. They also assisted with convos and special programs, among which was a Christmas program. Of these programs the Sensational Sixties was the greatest undertaking. The EGATS were in charge of the lighting and sound effects for this three act variety show. The members of EGATS worked with the act chairmen and sponsors to determine how these effects should be used.

This club has no officers; however they do have chairmen for the groups into which they are divided. Jack Conner is the stage manager. Chairman of the group in charge of lighting and electrical equipment is Bill Blizzard. Another group which has no elected chairman is concerned with props. The club has no social functions or moneymaking projects. Their efforts are concentrated entirely on productions. Sponsor of the EGATS is Mr. Elwyn Brown.

Y-Teens Active in School and Community

Y-Teens is an international organization of girls affiliated with the Y.W.C.A. The girls in the eight chapters at CSHS this year have striven to be of service to the community as well as the school. As community projects they have clothed needy children, presented food baskets to deserving families at Thanksgiving and Christmas, collected donations for the Heart Drive. As money-making projects, the chapters have sold stationery, decals, wrapping paper and ribbon, pencils, corsages, and have had tid-bit sales after school.

At their meetings they have had programs presented by students and by adults on a variety of interesting topics.

This year all the Y-Teens had a joint Christmas program in the Asbury Methodist Church. A representative from each chapter gave a short prayer; scripture was read, and traditional carols were sung.

The Y-Teens tried something new this year for a joint project. They held a skating party at Lincoln Center for all CSHS students after a basketball game. It was quite successful, and it started a trend for other clubs.

These joint activities were planned by the Y-Teens Council, which was made up of the club sponsor, president, and elected representatives. Anita Essex served as president of the council.

The Y-Teens sponsors this year were: A, Miss Van Lieu; B, Mrs. Mellencamp; C, Mrs. Lewellen; D, Miss Redmond; E, Miss Lucas; F, Mrs. Rhoads; G, Miss Seward; and H, a new chapter this year, Mrs. Edwards. Miss Armuth was the co-ordinator.

Susie Forster, Karen Kennedy, Mary Lou Ellington, and Bonnie Reynolds watch as Mayor Welmer signs a proclamation in recognition of National Roll Call Week.

Ron Jonson, Clyde Ramey, Stanley Rarick, Ed Hendricks, Terry Burns, Bob Hooker, Mike O'Neal, Steve Steele, Brenda Shanower, and Gary Davis are members of Science Club.

Clubs Develop

The members of the Photography Workshop prefer not to be called a club, even though they operate within the club program, because their organization exists only to help the members increase their knowledge of and skill in taking pictures. They have no outings or social functions as such. The requirements for retention of membership included fulfilling their monthly photo assignments and working at least twice at the coat check before the basketball games. Each month the amateur photographers were assigned a particular kind of picture to take and turn in to their sponsor, Mr. Anthony. If any member failed to turn in more than two consecutive pictures, his name was immediately dropped from the roll.

The money that the group made from the coat check was used to buy equipment for their darkroom; they are laboring diligently to convert it to a more-than adequate workshop.

The Science Club was extremely active this school year. Their sponsor, chemistry teacher Mr. L. N. Carmichael, gave them a lot of good advice and ideas for their science projects. They had several local scientists from Columbus industrial plants present programs of scientific interest to the members. The basic requirement for membership is that of exhibiting a project at the local Science Fair. Five boys who are members of the club, Steve Steele, Steve Dahn, Bob Hooker, Gary Davis, and Terry Burns, received awards at the regional fair. A big portion of each club period was devoted to work on projects. The group was able to take a few science trips out of town and gained a lot of knowledge as a result of these field trips.

Members were also required to accumulate no less than twenty-five points per semester in order to retain their place on the club roll.

The group maintained a small weather station atop the school building and equipped it by earning money from "Tidbit Sales." They performed a great service to the school in taking their time to prepare the gym for the Science Fair and for working the whole time to keep projects in order.

Interests and Skills

Future Homemakers of America is an organization aimed at teaching its members how to be good cooks, hostesses, housekeepers, and above all, outstanding citizens who will be true assets to the community.

Several of the girls are home economics majors. They attended district and state conferences where they made new acquaintances with other girls also interested in home economics.

The Future Farmers of America organization has a large enrollment of CSHS boys who are interested in agriculture. Many of the boys are following a course of study in which they spend each morning at the Junior High building, attending vocational agriculture classes.

The club has a big barn-warming celebration in the fall of each year. For one of their money-making projects, the boys sold flower and vegetable seeds in small quantities.

Some of the boys had demonstrations and exhibits at the Science Fair in which they experimented with various fertilizer mixtures and their effects on different plants.

Sunshine Hosts State Convention

Sunshine chapters this year were hostesses for approximately twenty-five hundred Sunshine Club members who came here for the state convention. Sally Kestner and Karen Keller retired as state officers, and Joyce Wade was installed as State President of Sunshine Clubs. Miss Mildred Maley, coordinator of Sunshine chapters, directed the conventions, assisted by the sponsors and committees from the individual chapters.

The purpose of the Sunshine Club is to train girls to become intelligent leaders in the community by taking an interest in its health and welfare. In order to do this, the girls work after school at Bartholomew County Hospital. The girls give the teachers birthday corsages and contribute to the State Riley Fund in their other projects. Each year a scholarship is given to a girl entering nurse's training. To further their training, they take food baskets to needy families and clothe underprivileged children.

This year, for the first time, the girls chose a girl of the month, who had accumulated the most points by serving at the hospital and by participating in other club projects.

For the second year, the girls held joint meetings once a month. Speakers from different medical fields talked to the girls at these meetings.

New members are initiated into Sunshine.

Joyce Wade gives Nikki Coombs the Girl of the Month award as Sharon Graham watches.

Sally Kestner, State Vice-president, and Karen Keller, State Corresponding Secretary, arrange flowers for the State Sunshine Convention.

Special Interests

Myra Sutherland, Evelyn Cloud, Alice Taylor, and Sara McClean select a name to submit to a contest.

The Contest Club is relatively new in the club program. The membership is composed of students interested in learning the techniques in entering various contests, where awards are made by numerous manufacturing concerns.

Keen interest and enthusiasm have been displayed by students in entering these contests. Jingles, rhymes, and slogans are the topic of discussion used daily by its members. Box tops, wrappers, and coupons are items collected by all. Prizes and awards were won by several students among the membership.

Club members work on some projects individually while other contests are entered as a group interest. Quite a thrill is experienced when creative effort has been rewarded.

Mrs. Wm. Lawless has been the sponsor of this club from its beginning. Her interest and advice has been greatly appreciated by all the members.

This year's Radio Club seemed to prove that size isn't everything in successfully operating an organization. The group had only ten members, supervised by Mr. Taylor and Mr. Beck. The boys spent most of their time in club period in transmitting messages to other "ham" radio operators in the local area. Also at noon, the boys would communicate with "hams" in this vicinity on their way to and from work by means of car transmitting sets. In these ways the members were able to gain experience in using the radios. There is an automatic code sending machine in the "radio shack" at school, otherwise known as the English office. By setting this machine at their own rate, the boys are able to get practice in learning the code and learning to transmit it rapidly.

The club raised money by having a "Tidbit Sale". Their profits went toward the construction of a transmitting station for the school. Although at the present time there are only two members who are licensed hams, the others are all working for their licenses and will soon be able to use the new transmitter.

John Snyder, David Arnholt, and Vernon Hilderbrand work with some radio equipment.

Form Club Platforms

The Debate Club has a membership of students interested in speech, debate and discussion. The art of extemporaneous speaking has challenged the minds of many of its students. Club members entered many local and state speech contests. Debates were held weekly with students from other high schools in Indiana.

It can truly be said that this club definitely developed the mind and ability for public speaking. This club has brought numerous honors to C.H.S. through its efforts.

Mr. Sam Davis was sponsor of the club. His enthusiasm, perfection, and untiring efforts will long be remembered and appreciated by all students.

The Recreation Club had many enthusiastic members this year. The gym is the meeting place of the club, where facilities are provided for many interesting games.

This club provides a time for many students who otherwise would not have the opportunity to use the two gyms. Playing by the rules and learning the ways of good sportsmanship are a requisite of all members.

Mr. Stearman and Mr. McDonald, co-sponsors, assist in organizing the program and teaching the fundamentals

Basketball and volleyball create much interest while other members take up tumbling and pyramid building. Table games hold the interests of others.

Playing shuffleboard are Larry Priddy and Steve Vetter, members of Recreation Club; members of another chapter enjoy a basketball game.

Clubs Aid in Developing Skills

The Officials' Club is a newcomer to the CSHS club program; however, even though it is only in its first year, it seems to be extremely popular with the boys here, especially to the athletes or athletic-minded. Its name almost tells its story in that the boys learn to officiate different athletic events. Not only are the members taught the signals used by officials especially in basketball and football, but they are taught the rules of the games down to the most minute details. They have drawn a great deal of enjoyment and satisfaction from refereeing intramural games among high school boys and also grade school tournaments for Bartholomew county township schools. Their coach, Mr. Max Andress, is certainly the man who can teach them if anyone can, since he himself has had a great deal of experience in officiating.

Fred Barkes, Mike Percifield, and John Birkemeier are three members of Official's Club.

There are two chapters of Chess Club at CSHS; one of them is supervised by Mr. James K. Kelly; the other by Mr. David Haines. The principal purpose of the organization is to teach beginners to play chess and to help veteran players to improve their game. Other than an occasional business meeting, the entire club period is devoted to playing chess.

Tournaments with other schools are held throughout the school year, in which a great many of boys participate. There is also an eliminations tournament between individuals in school to determine the most accomplished player at CSHS. Starting early in the second semester, the boys begin play-offs, first to find someone to represent our school in a regional tournament, then to go into state competition.

In order to raise money this year, the clubs had several successful "Tidbit Sales." These funds were used to purchase and maintain chessmen and boards and to finance trips to tournaments. These groups have several social activities, which include outings in the fall and spring.

Charlie Faulkner, James Roark, Quentin Reynolds, Robert Weidenbener, and Alan Dobbs concentrate on a chess game.

Future Teachers of America is, as you might guess from its name, an organization for high school students who are interested in the teaching profession. It is supported by the National Education Association and is a "foster child" of that group. The F.T.A. is a relatively new club at Columbus Senior High School and had only nine members this year, but it is expected to grow. Some of the club's members are participating in the Exploratory Teachers program in which students teach in classrooms at elementary and junior high schools in the community. Both the club and the teaching program are of great help to the student trying to decide whether or not he is meant to be a teacher. The two programs seem to go hand-in-hand and will probably come to include the same students in the future. The F.T.A. is a national organization and holds conventions, some of which were attended by club members from our school. They have displayed many posters throughout the halls, calling the attention of other students to the teaching profession as a possible career. Miss Gilkey sponsored the club this year. Since she is also the vice-president of the Indiana State Teachers Association, this seems to be a position well suited to her.

Under the able supervision of Miss Folger and Mrs. Mellencamp, the Log staff labored diligently, and, at times not so diligently, to meet deadlines in the preparation of your yearbook.

Besides having pictures to arrange and identify, each staff member was responsible for taking LOG subscriptions and payments in two homerooms.

Senior photographer Vernon Hilderbrand was undoubtedly the busiest person on the staff. He was responsible for taking nearly all the pictures of student activities and advertisements.

The first LOG was published in 1916. Since that time it has increased both in the dimensions and in the number of pages. Now the LOG is one of the highlights of the school year.

The staff this year developed your annual around the theme "To See Ourselves As Others See Us". Since our school is rapidly growing, more students were added to every division of the staff. With this increased corps, it is hoped that you are given a better and more complete view of yourself and your school year.

Daily Work To Publish Triangle

THE TRIANGLE staff this year was kept busy interviewing teachers and students for regular columns, writing special articles for holidays, gathering the details of current CSHS events for "scoop" stories, and always rushing to meet weekly deadlines.

Co-editors, Karen Dunlap, and Laurel Strahl were continually proofreading news write-ups and correcting mistakes in an attempt to curb the number of eye brows raised by the grammarians in the crowd of TRIANGLE readers.

Besides publishing the newspaper each Friday, the staff put out several special issues honoring the athletic teams and one in recognition of the school superintendents who assembled in Columbus last fall for a convention. They also conducted the poll to choose the school's "Top Ten Seniors".

In addition to all the news reports, Lynda Bell wrote a weekly column known as "Inklings"; Jack Dalton and Brent Snyder pooled their talents as sports commentators and came out with "Sports-lite", and Brent also exposed his artistic efforts to the printing block and provided a new touch of color for THE TRIANGLE.

The editors and some of the staff reporters last summer attended a journalism institute at Indiana University to learn how to publish a better school newspaper.

Mr. Anthony deserves a lot of credit for the publication. He offered help and supervision to the staff so that they produced a really good newspaper. Mr. Kalkwarf and the boys in the print shop also were invaluable because all the news in the world would remain oblivious without the press.

THE TRIANGLE is published each week by the boys in the print shop.

The Columbus Senior High varsity band began its year at Band Camp, held each year in August at the Youth Camp. Here they learned colorful drills for half-time shows.

Under the direction of Elwyn Brown, director of instrumental music, the band played at all our home athletic events this year. The band attended Band Day at Purdue University, Good Neighbor Day at Shelbyville, marched in the Veterans' Day parade, and played in the all-city Christmas program and the Sensational Sixties variety show.

The band had three chili suppers, sponsored by band parents, before basketball games to earn money for band uniforms. Their annual project was a fruit cake sale. The money from this was set aside for new equipment.

In the next few years the band will be expanding. This year there were sixty-four members, and next year the band hopes to increase to one hundred members.

What is that melodious sound coming from room 163? Why, it's no doubt one of the three choral organizations of CSHS.

Directed by Mr. Joe Williams, the choirs have a recipe of lots of hard work, seasoned with fun, to make them successful.

The Concert Choir's excellent presentation of "good" music has given it fame throughout the state. The choir has provided music for such programs as the State Sunshine Convention and the Rotary Christmas program.

The "girls in green", better known as the Debutees add the spice to the choral department and are constantly in demand for school dances as well as community club entertainment.

This year the largest Girls' Choir in many years greeted its audiences with over ninety lovely, smiling faces. The Girls' Choir always is an added flavor to any program.

The annual choir project is the sale of Demett's Candy Turtles. The purpose of this sale is primarily to finance the trip to the spring festival, which was held at Spencer this year.

Cheerblock Adds Color and Pep at Games

Wearing blue capes and white capes, members of Cheerblock form the letters CHS for Columbus High School.

The highlight of the season for Cheerblock this year was their opportunity to cheer for the Bulldogs in Butler Fieldhouse at the Semi-State.

Also at the Sectional, and especially at the Regional in the exciting final game with Madison, they worked extra hard to let the team know that they were backing them all the way.

During the regular season they traveled to Seymour and yelled for the Bulldogs against an enthusiastic crowd cheering for the Owls.

Cheerblock's officers this year were: president, Susie Forster; vice-president, Jeannie Arnhold; secretary, Janet Mizer; sergeant-at-arms, Lynda Bell; and songleader, Bertha LaSell. Cheerblock was coached by Mr. Charles Richardson.

Cheerblock and the student body were led in cheers by the cheerleaders captained by Jeannie Neuen. Laurel Strahl, Pat Devening, Barbara Scudder, Jill Marlin, Betsy Zaharako, and Jeannie worked their hardest to keep team support at its highest.

This year Cheerblock again wore blue and white capes. By alternating the colors of the capes, Cheerblock formed words and designs. The cheerleaders taught Cheerblock several snappy hand motions to do to the music provided by the band. The new yells learned this year proved to be very popular. These yells, the songs, and the capes added pep and color to all the home basketball games.

Cheerleaders Laurel Strahl, Jeannie Neuen, and Jill Marlin ring the victory bell.

Our athletic events are always regarded with excitement. Through sports events we experience both joys and disappointments. During every season of the year sports are offered at CSHS. The majority of us participate in these sports by either playing or cheering from the sidelines. This sports year holds several highlights. Among these highlights is our swimming team's successful trip to Purdue for the State Swimming Meet. Another highlight is our basketball season. The Bulldogs defeat Nashville and then Madison to make a trip to Butler Fieldhouse as part of the Sweet Sixteen.

To See Ourselves in Competitive Sports

Bulldogs Have Seven Wins

Coaches Dale Eddelman, Ted Martson, Max Andress, and Duane Barrows discuss some game strategy.

Coach Max Andress gives instructions to players about to enter the game.

The 1960 version of the Columbus Bulldogs was a team made up of muscles and speed. This year's squad compiled a record of seven wins and three losses, which record is the second best in the history of Columbus High School football. The Dogs finished in fourth place in the South Central Conference, which was a drop of three places from last year's standings. The conference record was six wins and two losses, but the Canines were in contention for the crown all season. By use of the Dickenson system, the CHSites placed behind the Spartans of Connersville even though both clubs suffered two defeats in league play.

Pre-season ratings had the Bulldogs near the top, and in the first game the boys from Ctown lived up to all expectations. FRANKLIN was the first opponent to visit the Columbus field, and although the Canines were plagued by fumbleitis, they turned back Jerry Broadus and his Grizzly Cub teammates by a 28-12 score. MARTINSVILLE was picked as a strong opponent for Columbus, but the mighty men in blue swamped the Artesians with seven touchdowns and won the contest 46-0.

The ever-dangerous SEYMOUR Owls were the next victims to visit Bulldog Land, and after scoring early on an intercepted pass, the team in purple was stopped cold. The Bulldogs won the contest by a margin of 34-7. For their fourth SCC contest of the campaign, the Columbus lads journeyed North to Golden Bear territory to match might with SHELBYVILLE. After a hard fought battle the Canines spoiled the opponent's Homecoming festivities by defeating the unpopular rivals 27-10. Disaster struck on the next Saturday when the Columbus winning streak of fifteen games was stopped by a big, fired-up BLOOMINGTON eleven. The Columbus pass defense was the only weak spot, and the Panthers found it. They passed for two TD's in the first half and held the Canines throughout the second and thus handed Columbus its first defeat in two years. The final gun sounded and the score was 14-7 in the Panther's favor.

Sporting a record of four wins and one loss, the Bulldogs entered the last half of the season with a good chance to win the conference crown for the second year in a row. First on the list were the lowly Pirates of GREENSBURG. Coach Andress gave his reserve members of the squad their chance in this contest, and with a little help from the regulars, Columbus won handily 43-0.

NORTH VERNON fell helplessly before the conquering Canines by the remarkable score of 60-0. At this point, the Columbus boys were in the conference lead, and to win the title, they had to win the next three games. Bob Welch and the remaining Red Devils from JEFFERSONVILLE were the first of the final three to tangle with the powerful Bulldogs, and the boys from the river toppled in front of the blue tide by a 20-13 margin. Playing major roles in this 48 minute battle were co-captain Steve Everroad, who scored all three Columbus touchdowns, and the ever-improving Blue Bandits, who stopped Welch for the first time in his career behind the line of scrimmage. Following the same pattern as the year before, the top game in the South Central Conference this season was between the SOUTHPORt Cardinals and the COLUMBUS Bulldogs for the conference championship. A capacity Homecoming crowd filled the Southport stadium in anticipation of a Cardinal victory.

In the opening minutes of play, MVP Charlie Wells blocked a Southport punt and ran for a touchdown which was to be the Canine's lone tally. The Bartholomew County boys played hard, but it wasn't enough as Southport scored twice to win the game and the league title by a 12-6 margin. The last game on the schedule was CONNERSVILLE, and they were a highly rated team in the state; but ineligibility of one player had forced them to forfeit their first three wins, and they were looking for revenge. Columbus dominated the first half of play, but it was different in the third and fourth periods. The Evans combo composed of an uncle and a nephew combined talents on passes and were trailing by one point with nineteen seconds left. A desperation pass that ended up in the end zone spelled defeat for the Bulldog eleven. With that final scoring, the team from C-ville won 19-14.

The success of the 1960 season can be given to Coach Andress and his excellent assistant coaches and to the tremendous team effort on the part of the players themselves. This year's team set an all time scoring record for Columbus Senior High School with a mass total of 285 points, which is an average of 23.5 points per game. CSHS opponents were held to 87 points or 8.7 per game. Although sixteen members will be lost via the graduation route, hopes are high, and the outlook is promising for another conference title next year.

The students of CSHS can be proud of their team members as many have been recognized for their football talent. Jim Rapp and Charlie Wells were given honorable mention for the All-State football team. Rapp was also a unanimous choice for the All-Conference team along with teammate Ed Wagner. Receiving honorable mention for the conference team were Wells, Ronnie Galloway, Steve Everroad, Paul Pringle, and Tony Patterson. Charlie Wells, who just two years ago was a reserve on the B-team, was chosen by his teammates as the Most Valuable Player on this year's team. Charlie was also the scoring leader, the first time an end has accomplished this feat. Co-captains this year were Jim Rapp, whose hard tackling and blocking tactics were admired by all except the opponents, and Steve Everroad, who was a great team leader and morale builder.

Football managers are, standing: Rick Everroad, Stuart Wilder, Donnie Doles; kneeling: Steve Head, Melvin Main.

The Columbus Bulldog understudies of 1960 did themselves proud as they earned a six wins and two losses record for the season. Coaches Ted Marston and Dale Eddelman were in charge and really put the Pups through their paces. The sophomores and juniors, scattered throughout, the team showed fine spirit and determination as they braved heat, rain, and the constant devilment of upperclassmen. After two weeks of practice, not one boy dropped out which should be some sort of a record.

A fine display of running and passing ability was demonstrated throughout the season, and many was the time a short gainer went all the way for a touchdown. Long passes seemed to be a specialty, and varsity fans received a sample of this when the younger gridders were turned loose in a varsity game. Line play was good on the whole, but it will become better after more experience and practice. As on the Bulldogs, defense was a key factor to success and was heavily stressed.

The Pup players scored a total of 201 points, which averages out to 25.1 points per game. Their opponents were allowed 115 points or an average total of 12.5 points per game. Each game twenty four or twenty five boys saw action. Playing this number greatly aids in the development of future stars.

Many Underclassmen Prophecy Future Strength

Coach Gerald Quilleon tutored his cross country charges to a successful season in that they won three out of six dual competition meets. The Columbus thinclads did a respectable job in their three invitational meets where they finished fifth at Washington, third at Seymour, and third in the Columbus Invitational.

Veteran performer Jack Dalton again led his teammates around the circuit and was the first Columbus runner to place in every meet. His times this year were superior to those he compiled in earlier years. Dalton was always challenged by teammates Richard Scott, Craig Beam, Steve Atkins, and Gary Pearson.

Although the team's record is not phenomenal, it shows the team members' desire to place cross country running as a sport of importance in Columbus Senior High School. With many underclassmen on the team, the prospects for better future teams are bright indeed.

At the fall sport's banquet, it was announced that Jack Dalton had been named Most Valuable Player, and Craig Beam, who ran for the first time this year, received the honor of being team captain.

At the start of the 1960-61 basketball season, Coach Bill Stearman welcomed back five lettermen from last year's squad. With these veterans and some new talent, the Bulldogs of CSHS started on their way to one of the most successful seasons in recent years. Before the season ended, the Dogs had won thirteen games and suffered seven losses. When tourney time rolled around, the Canines continued on their winning ways and grabbed five more victories before falling into the clutches of the Muncie Central Bearcats in the spacious fieldhouse at Butler University. In conquering eighteen contests and dropping eight others, the Columbus team displayed generous quantities of height, power, speed, and determination.

In the first game of the season against the Panthers of North Vernon, the new Bulldog squad began its rugged climb up the victory ladder with Joe Warfel's 36 points leading the way. At the end of 32 minutes of play, the score was 71 to 61 in favor of Columbus. Bloomington, a mere shadow of last year's Final Four team, was trounced by the towering Dogs 66 to 40. Warfel again led the scoring with 19 markers, and Eynon and Patterson aided the cause with fifteen and thirteen points respectively. In their first conference game of the year, the boys from Columbus took it on the chin from the Connersville Spartans 70 to 55. Our old friends, the Golden Bears, marched confidently down the highway and staggered home to Shelbyville on the short end of a 64 to 53 count. West Lafayette, a new team on the schedule, gave the Dogs a good fight, but it wasn't enough as Columbus rolled along with a 58 to 52 victory.

The Cubs of Bud Ritter were well on their way to an undefeated season when they invaded Memorial Gymnasium for the first time in December. When they entered their dressing room at the half, they were trailing by six points, but the second sixteen minutes was a different story as Humes, Perry, and Sherwood led the Cubs back. Warfel's hard-fought 24 points weren't enough to clinch a victory, and Madison scored a 69-59 decision. Playing in Franklin's carboard gym for the last time, the Bulldog's suffered defeat by a narrow deficit of two points. The final gun found Franklin ahead 60 to 58. Coach Lee Perry's young Martinsville Artesians were no match for the mighty Canines, and the host team won 77 to 49. In the heart-breaking game of the year, the Terre Haute Blackcats defeated Columbus on a last second shot by the score of 65 to 64.

Managers Melvin Main and Dennis Michael were always on hand to answer the commands of the coaches and players.

The Columbus Holiday Tourney crown was up for grabs as three other teams entered the city, but Columbus was finally able to win again after a three year period of missing the mark. In their first contest, the Canines defeated their southern Bulldog cousins from New Albany by the comfortable score of 74 to 60. On the following evening, they gained revenge for an earlier defeat and handled Franklin nicely 50 to 43.

Disregarding their opponents rough tactics, the Canines won a sloppily played contest over Greensburg 79 to 72. A journey to the southern part of the state proved futile as the Dogs fell before Evansville Bosse by the margin of 61 to 56. Traveling in the other direction, Columbus was steamrolled by Manual's state runner-ups by a score of 71 to 55. Dick VanArsdale's 24 points and Cummings' seventeen overshadowed guard Bill Russell's 18 point effort. Heading into the stretch, the Dogs added on the coal and drubbed Indianapolis Howe 83 to 48. Joe Warfel established a new Rushville scoring mark with his outstanding 43 point output. The host Lions fell before the Columbus basketball unit 76 to 60. In a poorly played conference tilt, the Dogs were beaten by Seymour's Owls by a count of 64 to 55. Blackie Braden's Cardinals from Southport were the next Bulldog victim 52 to 47. In another contest filled with bodily contact, Anderson's Indians succumbed to Warfel's and Atkins' outputs and lost 58 to 49. Playing the last season game of the campaign, Big Joe Warfel combined his 29 points with Russell's 21, and the Dogs clinched a victory over Bob Welch and his Jeffersonville teammates 85 to 72.

Columbus had a very successful season in that they not only won their own Holiday Tourney, but they also won their first Sectional in four years and also captured the Regional crown for the first time since 1955. The Bulldogs tied for third place in the South Central Conference with Jeffersonville and Southport. These teams placed behind first placed Franklin and second placed Connersville. In conference play the Canines won six and dropped three games.

The Dogs scored a total of 1720 points for an average of 66.1 points per game, while their opponents tallied 1,516 points for a game average of 58.3 points. The Bulldogs finished up by firing 38 per cent from the field and 60 percent from the free throw line.

Joe Warfel was the leading point getter and established a new school scoring record of 510 points. Richard Eynon came in second with 284 tallies, Bill Russell with 269 markers, Steve Atkins with 186, and Jim Holland with 129 points. Charlie Scott came in sixth with 117 points. Rich Eynon was the leading rebounder with 133 grabs and Warfel was a close second with 122 rebounds. Jim Holland was the team's best free throw shooter for the second straight year with 27 to 37 for an excellent 73½ mark. Tony Patterson hit 72% from the charity lane to become second best on the team.

Golf Team Undefeated in Dual Competition

Although they were plagued by the lack of returning lettermen, Steve Shumaker being the only one, the Columbus High School golf team members were expected to reach great heights in the link sport. After being down for a couple of seasons, it was time for a recovery to superior form. Everyone expected the Canines to capture the South Central Conference with comparatively little opposition or trouble. But such was not the case. The Columbus team suffered one of its most dismal days and finished fifth by four strokes in the final standings. A day of expected glory was changed into a day of disappointment.

Despite their downheartening exhibition of skill on the golf course in the conference meet, the Bulldogs of Columbus finished the fall section of first half of the season in fancy style. In dual competition the linksters from C-town were undefeated. This record is truly outstanding, and hopes are high for the same type of performance previewed in the fall to be presented this spring on the fairways and greens of the Bulldogs and their opposition.

Coach Chuck Richardson's team members are mostly underclassmen, who show great promise for future events. Steve Shumaker is the number one man on the squad and is also the only letterman. Other prominent players are Dallas Wetzel, Bill Staples, Charles Robinson, Dick Bonebrake, and John Yates.

Bullfrogs Cop Thrid State Crown

Magnificent! That is about the only word one can use in summing up this year's state champion Bullfrogs. Coach Barrows and his frogmen now hold three consecutive crowns for the Indiana High School state championship swim team. When a great coach and a score of determined athletes are combined, the result is a team which makes victory a near habit. Over the past three years the mighty team has racked up 59 consecutive wins in dual competition, has smashed many school records, and established 8 national marks. At the present time Wayne Thompson holds a national record of 1:03.8 for the 100 yard breaststroke. A 160 yard medley relay team composed of John Anderson, backstroke; Steve Rees, butterfly; Jim Tanner, freestyle; and Wayne Thompson, breaststroke, set a national record of 1:21.4. State records are also held by Wayne Thompson in the 100 yard breaststroke. The record is 1:06.9. Thompson also holds the state record of 2:12 in the 200 yard individual medley. A medley relay team made up of John Anderson, Tim Chambers, Sandy Ritter, and Jim Tanner holds a state record of 1:49.9.

This year will end an era of great CSHS swimmers and divers such as: Jim Tanner, John Miller, Wayne Thompson, Sandy Ritter, Jim Everroad, Jerry McCoy, and Jim Blickenstaff. They have been the power of the CSHS team for the past three years. As these performers take their final bow, a batch of underclassmen will receive the nod to continue in the ways of victory. A lot of strength will be lost this year, but swimmers such as John Anderson, Steve Rees, Steve Bigley, Steve Collins, Dean Freeman, Tim Chambers, and Doug Voelz will be waiting to take the load and will no doubt do so capably. Coach Barrows has high hopes for these swimmers who will be moving in to occupy the senior spots on the team.

We may have future Olympic champions among the outstanding swimmers and divers of this year's state championship team. If ability plus an unbelievable amount of determination can win a spot on an Olympic team of the future, there is little doubt that some of our fine young athletes will have the privilege of proudly representing the United States in the 1964 Olympics.

Track Has Promising Season

With but four lettermen returning to the squad, Coach Quilleon faces a rebuilding year. Winning letters last year were Jack Dalton, mile runner; Tony Patterson and Wayne Thompson, hurdlers; and Steve Everroad, dashman. These four seniors provide a good base for the power of the team. Pete Rice, David Groves, and Ed Wagner compose the brawn of the team. They compete in the shot put event. Roger Liggett, and basketball man Bill Russell are the pole vaulters for the squad. Running in the dashes are Everroad, Gary Pearson, and Craig Beam. Everroad runs in the 440, Pearson the 440, and Beam the half mile. Lynn Freeman and Mike Burt run in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Other names heard are Meredith Lee, hurdles; Merrill McMahan, shot put; and Tom Green, hurdles.

Coaches Quilleon, Eddleman, and Milakovic are faced with a tough job of whipping the team into shape for a big ten meet schedule. The thinlies compete with such teams as Manual (the VanArsdales), Washington of Indianapolis, and highly rated Edinburg.

Members of the track team practice jumping hurdles.

Baseball Team Shows Strength

After losing many players from last year's SCC championship team, Coach Stearman is faced with rebuilding the Columbus baseball giant of past seasons. The team boasts only six returning lettermen who saw limited action on last season's varsity. Also joining the squad are players who operated on the reserve team in 1960. In pre-season practice the CHS nine showed potential power in the line up with a fairly strong bench to bolster the attack on opponents.

The Bulldogs will play a fourteen game schedule made up of inter-loop foes and teams outside the South Central Conference. This season the Columbus team will start on a new conference system of playing different conference teams each year.

In the first game of the year, the Canines defeated the Washington Continentals of Indianapolis 3-2. The Dogs came from behind to win by using power and a generous quantity of determination. If this was an example of spirit, the CHS squad will be in the running all the way for the coveted SCC crown.

Champs and Runner-up

Mr. Robert Chappell headed the boys' intramural program again this year, and enough boys participated so that there was a ten team basketball league. Each team consisted of approximately eight players, and the teams played once every week. The season schedule continued for ten games, and at the end of the season, an elimination tourney was held with the whole league participating.

Regular season play ended with Team Five coming up with the best won-lost record of nine wins and one loss. The only defeat came at the hands of Team Ten, which eventually won the tourney. Team Five's members were Tom Prall, Butch Jordan, Jerry Wendel, Bob Arterburn, Jim Miller, Mickey Trotter, and Jim Rapp.

In tourney action, Team Ten defeated the league champs in the second round by two points and went on to win the tourney by beating their last opponents 90 to 30. Steve Everroad, Mike Brock, John Stadler, Charlie Wells, Bill Conner, Maurice Thompson, and Steve Brown made up Team Ten.

Maurice Thompson, Bill Conner, Steve Brown, and Steve Everroad, captain, were intramural champions. Charlie Wells is not pictured.

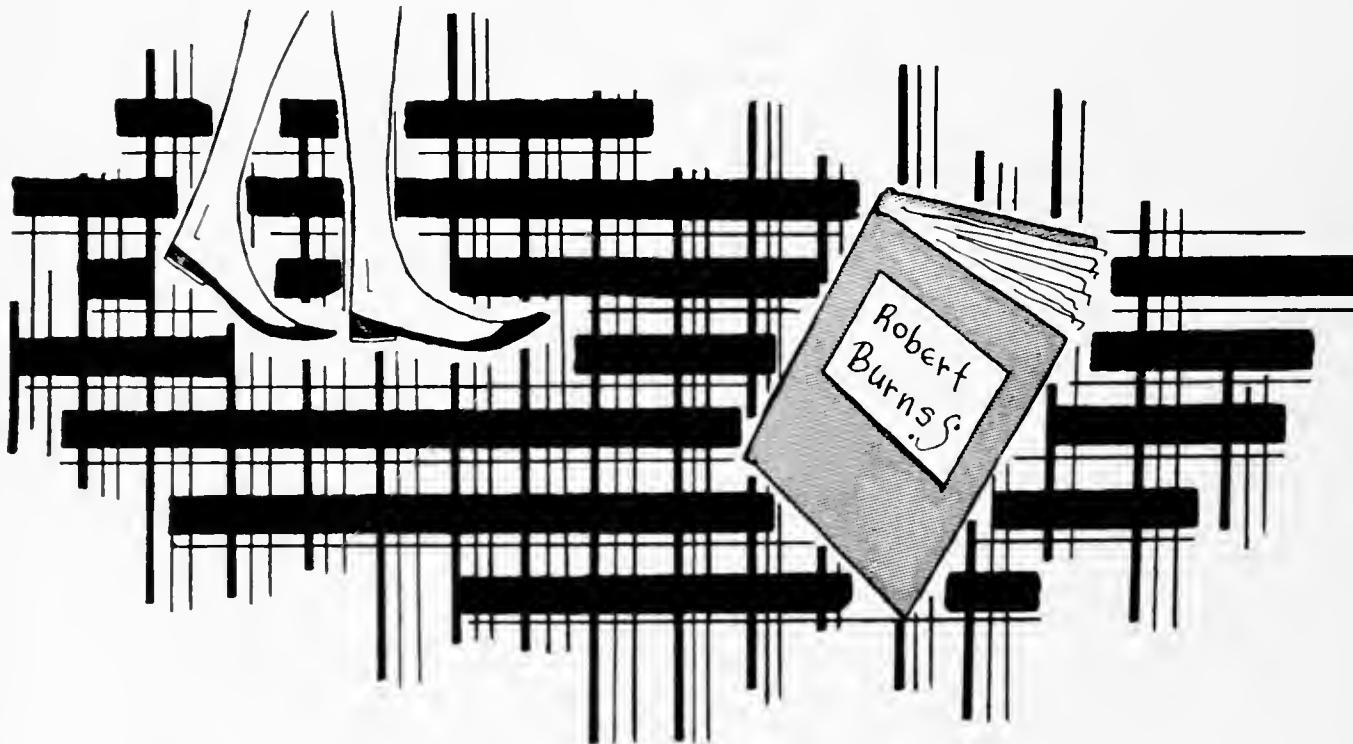

Runners-up were Charlie Schleuser, Donald Buuck, Alvin Horn, Brent Snyder, Ed Wagner, and Bob Eickbush. Chuck Lovelace, Bob East, and Larry Boyle, captain, were not present for the picture.

Every day we see ourselves participating in our classes. Each class has special privilege and distinctions which unite to make our student body. This year our sophomores were not the youngest class at CSHS. One hundred and eighty freshmen joined our sophomores on the first day of school in September. The juniors become more familiar with the school and prepare to assume their new role as seniors next fall. The seniors enjoy their last year at CSHS and prepare for graduation and the future.

To See Ourselves as a Student Body

School Administration Advances

Ever increasing enrollments at all levels has caused the Board of School Trustees and the Superintendent to move rapidly ahead with the building program of the Community Schools during this past year.

The McDowell Elementary School in the East Columbus area was completed for the opening of the school year and was dedicated during American Education Week. Already further plans are nearing completion for the construction of another eighteen-room elementary school north of Rocky Ford Road to serve this rapidly growing area.

A second junior high school was started in May 1960 just north of the Senior High School. Completion is scheduled for the opening of next school year. This new school will share the pupil load with the school at Seventh and Pearl. A six-lane regulation size pool is included in the building to be shared with the Senior High Swimming team.

A joint committee of lay citizens and school officials are at work studying and evaluating the vocational training needs of pupils of the future in anticipation of initiating action on the long postponed vocational wing to the Senior High School.

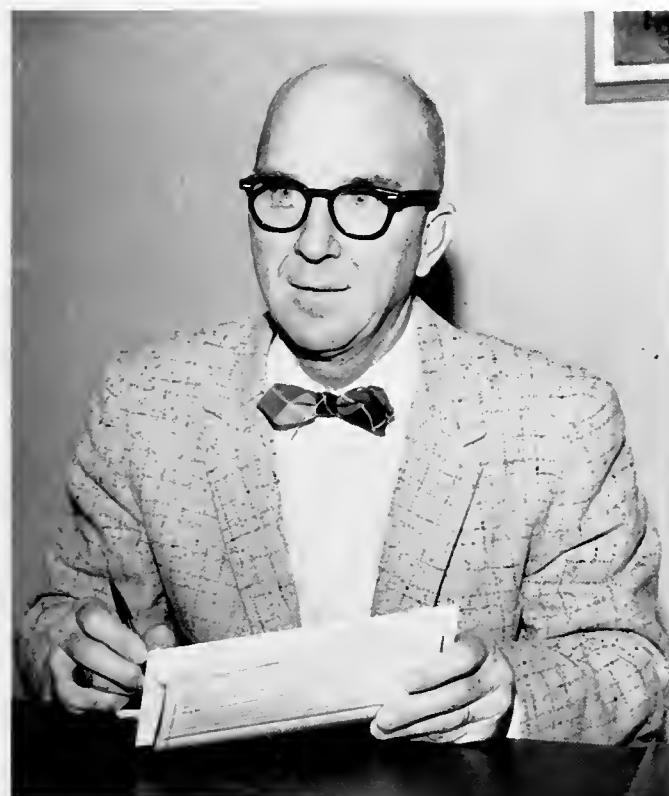

In addition to providing adequate school facilities, the school administration has given top priority to curriculum revision and improvement, and to the continual upgrading of the professional staff.

Members of the School Board are Mr. Clayton Huntington, Mr. E.E. Paul, Mrs. Clarence Hamilton, Mr. Dale Rust, Dr. Clarence Robbins, and Mr. Henry Blessing.

Mr. C.G. Addleman

To see others as we see ourselves, is to look at our fellow men with pride, confidence, and appreciation. Success is the way we walk the many paths of life, daily directing our minds to the tasks set before us. Success is the little things we do for others and the finer things we say to encourage those around us. So often we think of success as getting rich or rising high to fame and exalted glory. We measure our lives by awards and rewards, rather than by service and honorable effort at hard work. Success is not only achieving winning goals and receiving much acclaim, but in aspiring to high standards and living a life of purposeful attainment.

Success is being big of heart and being clean and fair of mind; it is being faithful to friends and to foes alike, being an example to children, being respectful to adults and thoughtful to those who are old.

Real success depends on consistent character in all things that we do, whether large or small. Life will measure our success as to how we see others, and as to how our fellow men look at us.

Seniors Enjoy Many Activities

Miss Elsie Butler, Mr. David Haines, Mr. Neal Carmichael, and Miss Mildred Maley were sponsors of the Senior Class. Not pictured is Mr. Glenn Diel.

Senior officers were Tony Patterson, president; Steve Everroad, vice-president; Rosemary Pardieck, secretary; Larry A. Wright, treasurer.

Many exciting events are reserved for the senior year. One such event is the wearing of those extra-personal senior cords. Seniors, remember how important we felt the first time we wore them and basked in the "ooh's" and "ahh's" of our classmates?

And we can't forget that first day when we planted our foot with pride right in the center of the senior circle while the poor underclassmen watched with silence and envy.

How many times it was our pleasure to load down our sophomore and junior friends with books that were too heavy for us privileged seniors to carry.

These events we experienced with joy, but there was a serious vein to the senior year which may have been equally pleasurable if undertaken wisely. This was the perfecting of our future plans.

When the new year rolled in, the conversation began hinging on the Prom. Juniors, we know this event is not exclusively for seniors, yet a Prom which one knows is his last somehow holds some extra magic. The remainder of the conversation was devoted to those horrible term papers, which unfortunately, too, are reserved for seniors.

While struggling along trying to meet those phase deadlines and trying to study for final exams, seniors could only look forward to that wonderful week known as senior week. During senior week the favorite pastime was heckling the underclassmen who were slaving away on their finals. We returned only for the famous junior-senior tug-of-war.

The final event which is reserved for seniors is, of course, Commencement. We looked forward to Commencement with excitement until it actually arrived. We saw ourselves graduating, but we never felt ourselves graduating until we did. How true those words—"We'll remember always graduation day."

Prom Remains Junior Highlight

Officers of the Junior Class were Larry Clark, president; Pat Jones, vice-president; Mickey Leesman, secretary; Pam Miller, treasurer.

Sponsors of the Junior Class were Mr. Karl McCan, Miss Alta Redmond, and Miss Joan Diggs. Absent was Mrs. June Rhoads and Mr. Raymond Scott.

The activities of this year's Junior Class consisted mainly of making preparations for the Prom. Committees were chosen to take care of the decorations, refreshments, program, and finance. This year instead of working in concessions to finance the Prom, the juniors voted that each member of the class pay two dollars as class dues. Through these responsibilities, practically each junior was responsible for helping make the Prom a success.

Many juniors ordered class rings toward the end of their sophomore year. As a result, the Junior Class rings were distributed early in this school year.

The Juniors were also involved in an extensive testing program. It was a standard requirement that every junior take the Iowa Tests. Juniors could, however, take part in the National Merit Scholarship and the College Board Examination in addition to the Iowa Tests.

The Junior Class sponsors and officers with help from members of the class made the Junior year a year to remember.

This year has certainly been an exciting one for us, the sophomores at Columbus Senior High. First there was the problem of learning our way around a new school. It was always a challenge to arrive at the right classroom before the bell rang. Then we were all given a chance to select a club, after becoming acquainted with the goals of the various clubs. Some of the clubs which we joined have as their goal service to the community; others develop an interest in a certain field. The election of class officers is always an exciting event. Those elected to be this year's officers are: president, Mike Hamlin; vice-president, Peggy Paul; secretary, Vicki Reynolds; treasurer, Bill Russell. Each sophomore receives counsel and advice in planning his future studies at high school.

This year, however, the sophomores are not the youngest students at C.H.S. There are one hundred and fifty freshmen sharing the joys and difficulties in being new. These freshmen were brought to the Senior High because of the crowded condition at the Junior High.

We, of the 1961 Log Staff, wish to express our sincere appreciation to the Columbus merchants for their co-operation and assistance that we received in the soliciting of ads. We know that you will find the same enthusiasm and friendliness as you visit the business firms of our pioneer city of progress.

"NOW, WHEN I WAS IN SCHOOL - -"

In the picture above Karen Reinking Kamman, Luane Mottier Taylor, Lana Huff, Sue Cooley and Mary Ann Tolen, who not long ago were C.H.S. students themselves, discuss their work in our office (or is it their school days they're talking about?) with students Kathy Weaver, Barbara Bosart, Mickey Leesman, Marty Laws and Pat Jones.

Arvin is proud of its many fine employees who are Columbus High School graduates and is glad to have this opportunity to wish the best of everything to all members of the Class of 1961.
